

Amiclo, your friend in the cloud.

amiclo.newis.cloud

newis

 AmiClo
powered by Televend

AmiClo

The cloud solution from Newis for sending content to a single new generation vending machine - or the whole machine park.

Cloud management in just a few clicks

Remote settings are received by the machine in real time.

Content management through a web platform

AmiClo allows content to be sent to the vending machine directly from a PC, through an intuitive web portal.

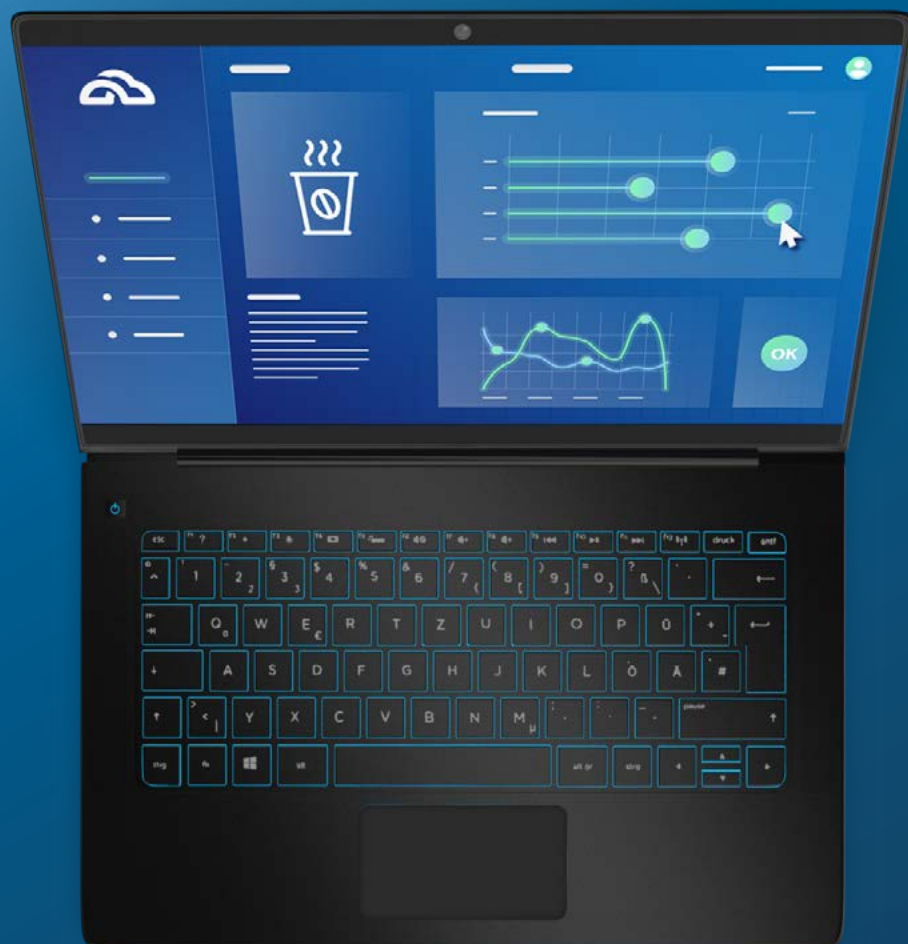

Customisation of multimedia elements

In order to offer an interactive and pleasant purchase experience, AmiClo allows the machine's user interface graphics to be updated remotely with:

- 1 operator logo
- 2 screensaver playlist
- 3 dispensing playlist specific to each drink

Always up to date drink recipes

AmiClo allows drinks to be customised in line with the consumer's preferences (icons and doses) to respond rapidly to clients' tastes and attract new users. Easily, from your desk - no need to leave the office!

Sharing of information

AmiClo is the ideal tool for in-house communications, thanks to its notice-board function, and for promoting special offers on specific products. All active promotions are displayed in real time and in an innovative way.

Content preview and customisation

AmiClo enables media content on a vending machine to be previewed and customised on a single automatic vendor or comprehensively across the entire machine estate.

Reduced response times, lower costs

AmiClo delivers smart and customisable control of management information; the attendance of a technician on site is therefore not required.

Even rebooting and resetting the machine following a failure can be done remotely and in total safety. Intuitive, easy, on demand.

Discover more